

A Talk on Surrey's Local Producers
Thursday 24th January 2019
Arrival time from 2.00pm for 2.30pm start
Anticipated finish time 4.00pm

Amongst the villages and towns of the Surrey Hills are a host of local producers who create artisan products that add an extra dimension to our wonderful landscape. After all, our Surrey Hills are not just the scenery but include all the activities which take place within it and help create its special character.

This afternoon illustrated talk by Ken Bare (our former vice chairman and now vice president) will take us on a tour of a range of these local producers. Not only will you learn that they produce a wide range of products but you will also be introduced to some of the background to their businesses.

Many of our local producers will be seen in farmers markets and at other events. This chance to earn more about the provenance of their products and why they have put their hearts and souls into their businesses will help you appreciate that we really do have a lot to celebrate and support.

Join us at Shere Village Hall for this fascinating insight to our local producers.

This event is not suitable for dogs or children under 12.
